"The Red Fox" at the Academy-Other Entertainments in the City.

Of the young actors now before the pub lic a leading one is Mr. Robert Downing. who is starring in "The Gladiator." Downing Las attracted an unusual amount of attention, especially this season, for his magnificent rendering of the rôle of "Sparmagnificent rendering of the role of "Spar-tacus, the Gladiator," in Dr. Bird's great tragedy of that name. Many play-goers will remember the splendid performance in this play of Forrest and McCullough, and find that a most worthy successor to them now presents himself, and that Mr. Down-ing perpetuates the play in all the grandeur of detail and strength of physicial as well as intellectual interpretation. In Philadelof detail and strength of physical as well as intellectual interpretation. In Philadelphia, New York, and Chicago Mr. Downing's "Spartacus" elicited the highest encomiums from the most fastidious critics. He will appear at the Theatre on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings.

"All that Glitters to Not Gold." An old colored prescher of this city ves-terday railed at the tity Collector's office to pay his taxes and was welled on by Mr. Curdezo, one of the cirrls. He hald his layer partly with what was thought to be in his collector gold passes. Som-time sperwards a physicism came in, and ites he returned and called attention to the icet that the pieces which had been given him were not gold some but about the some size and appearance of dollar pieces, having a head on one side with the words, "Con position spiel mark," and on the othern wreath with the same words. The pieces are such as are often used as counters by eard-players.

It was not doubted for an instant that It was not doubted for an instant that the old parson thought the pieces genuine money. The theory is that some colored "dude" dropped them into the contribution-box of the church, probably to show off before his test girl, and that they were paid to the parson on account of salary.

To help them in their investigation, they have employed as accountant Mr. Henry Boudar, who is a clerk in the City Treasurer's office, who has also had some experience in the office engtor Snyder, who voted for Camden on who is, withal, an expert in the masterly science of figures. WHAT DO THEY REPRESENT? The fact that the diplomats have entered the field of figures indicates that they expect the conference to proceed, and they, therefore, must have prepared themselves to answer the pertinent and persistent inquiry of the committee as to the number and sum of the bonds they represent. Saturday when this question was pressed they were not ready to answer. They did not know that they would be justified in disclosing their clients' concerns to the extent demanded by the legislators.

THEIR CLAIM. What they claim, it is understood, is that practically they represent or control all of the bonds that bear tax-receivable couponthe bonds that hear tax-receivable coupons and all the overdue coupons. Any agreement made between them and the State they will be able to bring all the holders of those securities into; but the committee want precise figures, and this it is expected that the diplomats will produce in writing in the morning. Some of the members of our committee say that the Englishmen agreed to furnish this information; others all the tax numbers and it. did not so understand it.
It is a certain fact, however, that the con erence will not proceed unless this inquir of the legislators is answered satisfactorily. That is settled; settled as much as anything in the future can be. A LEGISLATOR'S VIEW.

Said a member of the General Assembly (not a committeeman) yesterday: "I be heve that the restraint placed upon the committee binding them to secreey and preventing them from communicating and consulting with other members of the Legislature will be removed. It is well understood that several of the committee ore opposed to this secrecy. Some mem-bers of the committee were not favorably impressed with Friday morning's meeting. The questions put by them to the members of the commission were not satisfactorily suswered. It is well understood that the committee were not able to find out what amount of bonds the English own or controlled. It is known from the best au-thority that the meeting Friday did not re-sult in anything definite, and that peither member of the commission, when asked the amount of bonds they represented or controlled, made a satisfactory answer." THE CREDENTIALS.

The fact that some of the wording in the diplomats' credentials is regarded as un timely and unfortunate has probably de-eided those in charge of them to withhold them from the public. So it cannot be seen exactly what power Messrs. Thornton seen exactly what power mess. Hormon and Braithwaite have, but a member of the committee said to another member of the Legislature, in reply to the question, What did you do? "So far we have done no-thing," and he added that Sir Edward Thornton and Mr. Braithwaite, from wha could learn, had no more power than legislative committee, and if the con-ence should arrive at an agreement the diplomsts would have to report to the Eng-ish bondbolders, just as the legislative committee will have to report back to the NASHVILLE, TENN., April 30.—Yesterday afternoon Edward E. Samuels, a prominent St. Louis merchant, jumped from the bridge in this city into the river. He was rescued by some men in a canoe and removed to Eve's Hospital, where he died at 8:30 o'clock this morning. Before he died he said that his reason for attempting suicide was that he had broken a promise made to his wife that he would drink no more impoxicating liquor.

CURRENT NEWS. There will be no more interesting municipal election this year than the one is Raleigh, which occurs Mondaynext. Seventeen aldermen are to be elected by the popular vote. The Board of Aldermen will choose a mayor. Right here is where the interest centres. There are movements for and against the present administration. The administration people will rush the present mayor for reflection, while by the opposition the names of several gentlemen. There will be no more interesting muni present mayor for reflection, while by the opposition the names of several gentlemen are spoken of. There are independent candidates for aldermen in some of the wards. Things are badly mixed. Raleigh is pretty much out of sorts, in a political way.

The South Carolina people, or rather the railway commission of that State, will investigate the Spartanburg and Asheville railway next Wednesday. That road does not give special satisfaction in this State, it is suid. The railway commission's purpose is to see whether it is conducted in the interest of the corporations, &c., which contributed to its construction. The Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows holds its annual meeting here the middle of May Fayetteville's new $75,000 hotel rise It is a great ornament to that now progressive town. BY ALL MEANS A MONUMENT. There is a growing demand for a monu-ment on the battle-field of Gettysburg to the memory of the gallant North Carolinian who displayed such valor there. In very truth much injustice has been done this State in the matter of statements concerning her troops in that great battle, or series of battles. It is time to end the wrangle and buttles. It is time to end the wrangle and conflict of claims, acknowledge the part the Tar-Heels took, and erect a monument or monuments. Subscriptions ought to be called for, and the ladies of the State should THEY COMEINE BUSINESS WITH PUNISHMENT. The fail at Greensville, Pitt county, is a source of great merriment. As has been heretofore stated in the Dispatch, a mer-chant therein incarcerated looks after idcrop hens and mortgages in the regular style, as if the jail was only the court-house, while an ex-tax collector keeps open his ooks as usual, and sits regularly at th receipt of custom, as if he were not a fall bird at all. These things have excited laughter. But the full is a paradise for horse-traders as well as other people. This week an inmate of the jail ascertained that a free citizen desired to trade horses The outside man brought his nag to the jail and paraded him before a window sithe jail-bird could take in his points. The trade was made then and there. The out sider took the horse to the prisoner's stable and look away the latter's nag. Pitt coun-ty people know how to make a residence in Jak profitable if not pleasant.

WAS IT REALLY THE GREAT MARSHAL? The most remarkable event of the coming week will be the opening of the grave at the little town of Third Creek, Rowan county, wherein the body of P. S. Ney lies The exhumation is to be made by prominent physicians of that section to satisfy, if possible, a long-feit belief that P. S. Ney and the famous French Marshal Ney were the same person. The disinterment is at the request of Dr. Draper, the president of the Wisconsin State Historial Association, whose inferest in the matter is intense. Thousands of people in this State have heard of thus long-vexed question of whether P. S. Ney and the Marshal were the same person. The skull of P. S. Ney is to be examined to see if it was trephined, and also to locate the exact position of a sabre-cut. The most remarkable event of the comin sabre-cut.

The annual income of the State Agricultrea annua income of the state Agreed at tural and Mechanical College is figured at $74,000. For its construction about $39, 000 is now available in money, material, and labor. Democratic government in Raleigh makes a fine showing. The city's net indebted ness has been reduced to $116,000. The Inter-State Commission.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) MOBILE, ALA., April 30.-The Inter State Commission met again to-day and de-voted three hours to hearing the evidence of these interested in the iron business in Birmingham and vicinity, and in receiving retifions from firms engaged in the load setitions from firms engaged in the lumbe interest, all of them favoring a suspension of the fourth section of the inter-State act But one witness appeared to favor of the enforcement of the law as it stands.

The commission then adjourned to meet Monday in New Orients.
Washington, April 30.—Secretary Moseley, of the Inter-State Commission, has received by telegraph an application from the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company asking to be relieved from the operation of ection 4. The petition presents that its lines of railroad connect with the Northern Pacific railroad and with the Union Pacific railroad, and that with such connections the petitioners' lines form links in the through trans-continental lines to the Pa-cific. The petitioner is informed that said section has been suspended as to the lines oresaid; that both said companies make brough rates to the Pacific coast, including tioner; and that the petitioner is advised that it cannot legally join said companies in said traffic fixed by them on through freight to the Pacific-coast points without first obtaining a suspension of said section 4 in behalf of the petitioners.

A Besperate Tramp Incendiary.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

HARTFORD, CT., April 30.—George Cowles, a farmer of Wethersfield, last night discovered a tramp in his barn lighting a match. He ordered the tramp out, but the fellow seized a plichfork and drove Cowles from the barn, and then, scattering hay about, deliberately set fire to the building, keeping Cowles out, but remaining inside himself until the fire was beyond control. The barn was totally destroved, together with four cows, bay, ides. &c. Cowles called barn was totally destroved, together with four cows, bay, plgs, &c. Cowles called his neighbors, and they pursued the tramp, who was crippled by a buck-hot-wound in-fleted by his pursuers and was finally cap-tured, though he had to be clubbed with the stock of a gun to keep him still after he was overtaken. He was lodged in jail.

The engineer of the coal train was severely but probably not fatally hurt. The pecuniary loss to the company is very heavy. The responsibility for the aecident is charged to Assistant-Dispatcher Scott, of Tamaqua, in giving conflicting running orders to the trains, and it is said he has disappeared.

THE LOUISVILLE SENSATION. Turner and Patterson Spend Miserable Night-Jennie Bowman's Condition.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Louisville, Ky., April 30.—Everything was quiet this morning about the jail and court-house square. The meeting agreed upon by the mob leaders last evening did not materialize, and it is generally believed that all danger of mob violence has passed. Turner and Patterson spent a miserable night. They refused to eat, and could not sleep with any peace. They were called upon by two colored ministers, who endeavored to pacify them, but only partially succeeded. During the night the prisoners were visited by numerous citizens, who, out of curiosity, wanted to say. The men were in adjoining cells and could distinctly hear what they had to say. The men were in adjoining cells and could distinctly hear what each other said. When Turner was asked if Patterson was guilty he would reply in the affirmative, and Patterson never failed to reply that it was not true. A dispute would then follow, each swearing by all that was true and holy that he was right and the other wrong. Both prayed incessantly, and when the mob was the londest they literally rolled on the floor in fear and agony. When the prisoners were told that the milltin and a Gatting gun had appeared they grew quicter and rested under a feeling of safety.

The statement published by one of the morning papers indicating that Patterson was able to prove an abib is not generally believed. It is strongly contradictory of another story told by Patterson a (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

RACINE, Wis., April 30.—Mrs. Michael
Brown was found dying and her alopted child dead, at their home here, yesterday,
The house has been locked and the curtains drawn since list Monday evening, and it yas supposed that they had gone away. Yesterday afternoon a mail-carrier peered through a bed-room window and saw Mrs. Brown and child lying upon the bed, the former breathing heavily. He suspected that something was wrong, and notified a potegman, who broke open the door. Investigation proved that Mrs. Brown had poisoned herself and child. The latter had been dead three days, and its body was badly decomposed. At last accounts the wo-man was alive.

The Boycotted Patterns.

New York, April 30.—The stock market to dulest for a week, and trading absorbed less interest than in any day for some time. The temper of speculation was generally buillish upon reported atterances of Mr. Gouid, and this was increased by marked strength in Missouri Pacific. The early demand soon diegaws, however, leaving the market extremely dull and somewhat irregular, though the general tendency was upward in the forence and dewnward during the remainder of the day and the fluctuations, except in two or three stocks, were entirely insignificant. Reading was the only roally active stock of the day, its recorded sales being about one third of the entire business done. The remainder of the market is dull and entirely devoid of feature. The oponing was generally firm, while Missouri Pacific showed an advance of ½. The first few minutes of business was marked by great activity, but it soon quieted down, and by the end of the first half bour had become dull, and so remained throughout the rest of the list showed but slight fluctuations, and were generally firm. GRAY.—Died, April 30th, at quarter-past 4 o'clock A. M., ROBERT B. GRAY, at his residence, 736% north Fourth street, after a long and painful lilness, which he bere with Christian fortitude. A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is still; A place is vacant in our home which never can be filled.

We miss the kind and willing hand, Thy fend and earnest love; Our home is dark without thee; We miss thee everywhere. Funeral from Clay-Street Methodist church THIS (Sunday) EVENING at 3 o'clock, Friends of the family lavited to attend; also, Friends of J. J. Leaker's family, his brother-in-

Three weeks ago to-day a loving family group kept anxious and tearful watch where a young and loving wife lay struggling with death. Sad indeed to them was that Easter morn as they marked the failing pulse of her young heart sink lower and lower. It was a loving wife that lay there—hot age with burden and many sorrows, but youth and innocence—about to embark from the shores of Time upon the shoreless sen of Eternity. Twenty summers only had bloomed and blossomed over her fair young head, friendship and love had crowned her; but of what avail are friendship and love now? Stricken down in life's glad merning, she was about to yield to the last conquery, and those who loved her best had been summened to see her die. Beautiful is the death of the pure and good. Around this bedside are no alarms; faith and bope are among the watchers and loving trust is the downy pillow that scothes and rests her dying head. Born of a pious mother, nurtured and reared in the faith of the Gespel of Christ, she had early embraced that faith, and it was now the ancher sure and steaffact to which she clung. embraced that faith, and it was now the anchar-sure and steadfast to which she clung. Tears full from loving eyes as the hour of death draws nearer and nearer. Sounds of wailing and lamentation break the solemn stillness of that solemn morn; but with her all is blessed-ness and peace. Resting in the assured hope of acceptance the bade farewell to those around her, her beautiful eyes closed in their drawn-less sleep, and the soul of the loving and gen-tle ADDIE W. CHANDLER winged its way from earth to rest forever in the bosom of the Cru-cified. cified.

A fresh mound in Oakwood overlooked by the beautiful blue skies marks the spot honcoforth sacred to her memory.

Rest, Apple; naught shall break Thy slumber, calm and deep, Till lie shall call who kindly gives To His beloved sleep. 104 H. B. B. A TRUE PRIEND, BOT AT THE REQUEST OF EL VIN GROVE, No. 8, U. A. O.
